

Download Good News Club Christian Americas

The Good News Club: The Christian Right's Stealth Assault on America's Children [Katherine Stewart] on .
FREE shipping on qualifying offers. In 2009, the Good News Club came to the public elementary school where journalist Katherine Stewart sent her children. The Club

In 2009, the Good News Club came to the public elementary school where journalist Katherine Stewart sent her children. The Club, which is sponsored by the Child Evangelism Fellowship, bills itself as an after-school program of "Bible study."

The Good News Club: The Christian Right's Stealth Assault on America's Children [Katherine Stewart] on .
FREE shipping on qualifying offers. In 2009, the Good News Club came to the public elementary school where journalist Katherine Stewart sent her children. The Club

The good news club the christian rights stealth assault on americas children

Christians who are concerned for boys and girls work together volunteering their time and energy to teach Good News Club. They are trained by Child Evangelism Fellowship to have a club that is exciting and informative so that children will want to keep coming.

Good News Club is a weekly interdenominational Christian program for 5-to-12-year-old children featuring a Bible lesson, songs, memory verses, and games. It is the leading ministry of Child Evangelism Fellowship (CEF), which creates the curriculum, translates it into different languages for use around the world, and trains instructors to teach it.

The Good News Club is not sponsored by your local church. It's sponsored by a large organization based in Missouri. Good News Clubs give the impression that they are operated by local churches and staffed by caring local volunteers.

A group of atheists in Rochester, N.Y., has bad news for the Good News Club, a Christian after-school club for children. The group, consisting of atheists, humanists and skeptics, announced its ...

Every year, thousands of public elementary school children bring flyers and permission slips home to their parents, seeking to take part in an after-school "Good News Club" inside one of over 4000 public elementary schools in America.

The #1 source for good news! For 20 years, our positive news from around the world has uplifted and inspired millions to become more optimistic.

Other Files :